Become a numbers professional with «numscout.ch»

The «numscout.com» website has been online since February 21, 2022. It is the world's first platform where anyone can calculate their personal numbers quickly and easily. What makes the boss, the neighbor, the partner tick and is there more potential for harmony than conflict in my relationship? In a professional and comprehensible form, «numscout» provides insights and clues that help to better understand oneself and others, to make difficult decisions and to take advantage of important opportunities in life.

Who hasn't asked themselves why they get along better or worse with one or the other counterpart? Others are about to get married and are not sure which name to choose or what their child should be called. It is precisely for such elementary questions that «numscout.com» offers assistance and shows which names and combinations are ideal and which are better avoided. The concept of the new platform is simple: anyone can register and perform a free personal calculation. However, not only personal numbers can be calculated, but also slogans, product names, companies, addresses, telephone numbers and much more, as well as the potential for harmony and conflict in families, relationships, teams and between employees.

For private and for business

«numscout» is divided into the areas «Private» and «Business». While in the «Private» area calculations can be made for people, family constellations, relationships, etc., the «Business» area offers a variety of other calculation options, which are geared towards businesses. For example, product names, slogans, websites, prices as well as company names can be calculated including many examples and tips. In the company section, it is also possible to calculate the harmony and conflict potential of an entire team or individual employees.

High goals and continuous development

Creating more understanding and clarity for oneself and one's counterpart is the goal and the drive for the team of «numscout.com». Everyone should be able to find out where their challenges lie and how they can be tackled, solved and turned into advantages. To ensure that as many people as possible can benefit from the offer, the site is designed to be simple and clear. In addition, the platform is to be made available in other languages in the near future so that «numscout» can be used worldwide.

What is «numscout» and what are the calculations based on?

The «numscout» team has spent years studying, analyzing and testing the most diverse numerologies worldwide. In the end, the most original and at the same time most precise one was used as the basis for «numscout.ch», because it offers a very narrow scope for interpretation, which is why it is excellently suited for the new platform.

In numerology one knows altogether 9 different areas of life. In addition, there are potentiated subforms, which show themselves in the form of so-called guilt and master numbers. When people are calculated on «numscout.com», the first and last name as well as the date of birth are always used. This results in a big picture, a potpourri of numbers, which describe the life parameters of that person. «numscout» tries to present this in a way that is as understandable and professional as possible for everyone, in order to offer a new kind of life help.
